

Non-Ferrous Metals

The use of titanium, aluminum and magnesium increases rapidly. Their fields of application grow year by year as the light metals represent important resources for our future.

Being able to deal with aluminum as a very special and valuable material makes us proud. Our areas of expertise develop day by day. By introducing our new T6 and T4 thermic production system in 2018, we will improve our proficiency even more.